General Assembly Marshall Charges Communists Seeking Collapse Of China

Governor John C. Bell To Make Brief Address To Session During Afternoon

PARTY CAUCUSES ARE BEING HELD

HARRISBURG, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The 137th session of the General Assembly convened at noon today and lawmakers scouted the legislative horizon for signs of the administration's program.

No hint of Governor-Elect James H. Duff's official recommendations was given assemblymen although they were confident the program would reflect the broad social and financial program enunciated during the campaign.

The house and senate were jammed with spectators when the opening gavel rhythmically sounded the official beginning of another session in the commonwealth's 171-year history.

Governor To Speak

Gov. John C. Bell, Jr., the state's 20-day interim chief executive, will address a joint session of the assembly at 3 p. m. and will read a parting message from his predecessor, Edward Martin, now in the U. S. senate.

Legislators will meet three days during the initial week to accelerate a personnel revision bill designed to effect more efficient operation of legislative machinery.

The measure, sponsored by House Majority Leader Herbert P. Sorg, of Elk, will eliminate "obsolete" legislative jobs, provide a uniformity of pay for workers, establish a skeleton year-round force and increase salaries for the session by $39,000.

Italian Premier In Conferences At Washington

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Gen. Alcide De Gasperi, Italian premier, is in Washington today for a round of conferences with top American officials today after Secretary of State Byrnes made clear that Italy must sign the recently drafted peace treaty even though it hurts.

Byrnes' remarks on Italy were made as he played host at an official dinner given for the Italian statesman who is in the United States seeking economic and political aid.

The secretary warmly greeted De Gasperi and admitted that the "difficult task" of Byrnes' emphasis, however, that the premier must "reconcile" the extremists of the right and left. He then added that De Gasperi must "have his government agree to sign a peace treaty."

Byrnes continued significantly: "The Italian government must realize that the Italian people of today must pay for the sins of the government that is gone."

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa Newc noted two young people, Monday evening, getting quite a cool ride as they rode about the city. The couple were seated in the rumble seat of a car and were seemingly enjoying their open air ride despite the winter weather.

One East Side family is still in the Christmas mood Pa Newc notes in his travels. Although the home still displays a large Christmas tree in the front room very noticeable from the street.

M. C. Sanderson, County Line road, purchased 100 Tom Barron single comb white leghorn chicks on March 10, 1946. When they were 8 weeks old, he sold 40 chickens. He housed 35, and on the 17th, he got 48 eggs, on the 16th, 47 with one double yolk, and on the 17th, he got 48 eggs from his 50 pullets. He would like to hear from others on the "50 pullet question."

When one sees pictures of attractive flowers in the magazines, spring seems to be drawing nearer. A vegetable and flower seed catalogue has already been received in the home of one of Pa Newc's family.

Mrs. C. J. Roeder, of Pulaski road, reports to Pa Newc that while looking over the papers of her father, the late E. B. Hoover, of the Wilmington road, she discovered that he had kept a diary from the time he was ten years of age in 1879 until his death September 5, 1946.

One of Pa Newc's boys was more or less astonished this morning to see a wild duck, which appeared black against the sky, winging its way in a northerly direction. Some Old Timey will probably pop up with the information that it was the advance guard for spring, or maybe just a snapper sent out to find out what weather conditions are like up north. But personally, Pa Newc believes, he was just plain lost.

Report Marshall May Be Chairman Of U.S. Red Cross

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—High official circles in Washington today indicated that Gen. George C. Marshall, President Truman's special ambassador to China, will become chairman of the American Red Cross.

Gen. Marshall, who has been in China seeking to bring internal peace to that country for more than a year, is now en route to Washington to report to the president.

The wartime chief of army staff, it is understood, has been offered the post as head of the relief agency, and is expected to accept. This indicates he does not plan to return to China.

GOVERNOR BELL GETTING FATIGUED SIGNING HIS NAME

HARRISBURG, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The toughest job confronting Gov. John C. Bell, Jr., today was writing his name.

The new interim governor stepped into the chief executive's chair resigned by U. S. Sen. Edward Martin last week in time to assume the responsibility of signing $46,000,000 worth of refunding turnpike bonds in denominations of $1000.

"I can't delegate the job to anyone," he said.

He must use a machine that will enable him to sign 20 at a time, but still must write his signature 2400 times. He figured it would take him eight or nine hours to do the job.

Plans To Erect Drive-In Theatre

Meadville Man Announces Project For Site On Route 422 Near Parkstown

Dr. R. B. Herrick, physician, of Meadville, was in New Castle, Monday, completing arrangements for the construction of a drive-in theater on Route 422, near Parkstown Corners.

Dr. Herrick, who owns the Air-Way theater near Meadville, recently purchased ten acres of ground from Eli M. Byler, of R. D. 2, and will erect the structure on the site on the right side of the highway in the direction of Youngstown just north the curve of the road at Parkstown.

The physician said that construction will begin as soon as possible, with plans calling for parking space for 300 to 400 autos on specially built ramps.

Shows will be shown twice nightly with the theatre operating seven nights a week during the spring and summer months, the doctor added.

Italian People Expect Much Of Premier's Visit

ROME, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Premier Alcide De Gasperi's mission to Washington has inspired in the Italian people optimistic expectations of American aid for Italy's economic and political resurgence.

Italians, as evidenced by their talk and press comment today, expect De Gasperi to "do something" about a reconstruction loan in addition to the $100,000,000 already asked "for the most immediate critical needs."

They expect also that the Christian democratic premier will act to lessen the burden of a "punitive peace," finding ways of mitigating the tougher parts of the peace treaty Italy will be called on to sign next month.

The Italian public hopes that De Gasperi's visit will result in a safeguarding of Italy's interests in the African colonies which, attested by Fascism and in which the results of Italian colonial enterprise are self evident.

Fail To Locate Missing Crew In Antarctic

ABOARD THE U. S. S. MOUNT OLYMPUS, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Plane Crew Number One of the Eastern Task Force completed today the first prolonged search for the PBM patrol plane missing with nine airmen in the Antarctic—but without success.

Reports to the command force said the searchers were out nine hours without finding a trace of the plane which disappeared on a photographic mission December 30.

The searchers combed 11 thousand and square miles of barren Ellsworth Land where the missing plane last reported to the seaplane tender Pine Island.

Then heavy overcast on the mountains again curtailed flying operations.

Earlier eastern and western groups radioed that visibility was 12 miles, virtually a record for the fourth Byrd expedition.

"Camera-Gun" Shooting Instigator Is Killed As He Battles Police

GILBOA, N. Y., Jan. 7.—(INS)—The bizarre crime career of Alphonse Ruocco, a passion-maddened instigator behind the wild "camera-gun" shooting of his ex-wife on a crowded subway station was ended today by police bullets.

The 23-year-old fugitive was shot to death in a short, desperate gun battle with about 50 state police and New York city detectives at 7 p. m. last night.

He was cornered on a snow covered, heavily-wooded, hill one mile outside of the quiet little farming community of Gilboa, which is 30 miles southwest of Albany, by a posse which had been relentlessly tracking him down since he had been sighted in the section Saturday afternoon.

Ruocco was resting in a sleeping bag under a spruce tree when he was spotted. A full moon lighted the area. Police, who know of his

Classes Resume At Westminster

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 7.—Westminster college's 1314 students returned to the class rooms Monday after having spent two weeks at their homes for the holidays. The first semester will end February 8.

Faculty members who have been residing in temporary quarters took advantage of the vacation to move into the eight new pre-fabricated houses. Their first reaction to living in the pre-fabs has been very favorable.

Dr. J. W. Harper McKnight, college pastor, announced Monday that the week of March 23-30 has been selected for Religious Emphasis Week. A speaker of national renown will spend the week on the campus.

Absent from his teaching duties is Dr. Eugene G. Haas, head of the chemistry department, who underwent a serious operation in Akron, O., several days ago.

Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, former president of the college, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Life Science Group Monday night. Dr. Galbreath is giving a series of talks to the group on the subject of "Consecration."

Daughter Seeks To Aid Father In Treason Case

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—A slender attractive 21-year-old brunette was in Boston today preparing to wage a lone fight for her father, one of two former American newspapermen accused of treason through alleged Nazi radio broadcasts from Berlin.

She is Laurette Chandler, daughter of Douglas Chandler, 57, awaiting arraignment with Robert H. Best in Federal court on treason indictments.

They were flown back to this country from Germany last month. They were under indictment in Washington, D. C., but because their plane was forced to land at Westover Field, Chicopee, their cases must come under the court in this district. As a result they were re-indicted by a Federal grand jury in Boston and were brought to Boston from Washington.

Laurette is the oldest daughter of Chandler by his first marriage. She said she came to Boston to "help my father because he is innocent of treason."

Flood Of Labor Bills Presented In New Congress

Republicans Call For Speedy Action On Measures—Reject Labor Study Proposal

SENATE HEARINGS LIKELY NEXT WEEK

By WILLIAM THEIS (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Republicans loaded the hopper of the 80th congress with labor bills today and called for speedy action rather than the "broad study" proposed by President Truman in his state-of-the-union message.

Senate leaders indicated hearings probably would begin next week on the Ball-Taft-Smith version of the Case bill vetoed by Mr. Truman last year.

No Labor Study Plan

Sen. Ball (R) Minn., chief author of the measure, marked the GOP reaction to the president's labor recommendations, saying: "I don't think we'll reverse our position and adopt a labor study plan. We'll do our studying on specific bills as we go along."

Ball criticized the president's failure to take a stand on "closed shop abuses" and revision of the labor relations act. He observed that Mr. Truman "endorsed the main points" on the Case bill.

The flood of labor-curbing bills introduced in both senate and house demonstrated that on Capitol Hill, as in the president's 6,000-word message, this was the "No. 1 problem" of 1947.

Members of congress praised Mr. Truman for his renewed offer of cooperation and for his stand on many problems. But his labor recommendations, endorsing some portions of the 1946 Case bill, drew their chief attention.

Bills to outlaw the closed shop, nullify the supreme court's portal to portal pay decision, seize the funds of unions dominated by subversives, and investigate labor-management relations generally as well as the coal industry specifically were introduced.

On the labor front, AFL President William Green endorsed the president's objectives and his opposition

Marriage Licenses In Mercer County Reach New Record

Divorce Rate Also Spurts Upward In County; Women Lead In Divorces

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Jan. 7.—Mercer county's marriage rate hit at least a seven-year high during 1946, according to Miss Evelyn Patterson, chief deputy clerk of courts.

She reports that 1,538 couples applied for marriage licenses at the court house in Mercer during the past year. This was 101 more than were issued during 1945.

June still topped the list as the rice throwing month, with 178 licenses granted.

Divorce Rate Spurts

The divorce rate also spurted upward during the past year, according to the court house records. There were 298 divorces granted last year, 118 to men and 180 to women, compared with 167 divorces granted during 1945.

A comparison of marriage licenses issued during the past seven years follows: 1,276 in 1940, 1,130 in 1941, 1,127 in 1942, 1,388 in 1943, 1,118 in 1944, 1,437 in 1945 and 1,538 in 1946.

On, these are the days for the baskets, those fellows who play in shorts, for these are the days of the icy blasts, the days of the indoor sports. And the baskets in their scanty garb cavort with the wildest glee as they strive to put a ball through a hoop, and sometimes successfully. The days of baseball are long forgot and the football memory is dim, for the basketball lad is the hero now as he gallops with vigor and vim. So hail to the sport on the hardwood floor, to the lad with the bag of tricks; it's basketball time from coast to coast and the weather is thirty-six.

Dr. Galbreath Is Heard By Rotary

Former President Of Westminster College Urges Rotarians To Main Hope

DISCUSSES ILLS OF PRESENT ERA

Discussing the many ills which beset the world at the present time, for none of which he offered any cure, because as he stated, they appear to be beyond the scope of any man's efforts, Dr. R. F. Galbreath urged New Castle Rotary club members not to lose hope, but to help build a house of goodwill which will help to remedy conditions which at the present cause most thinking people to despair. He addressed them at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton on Monday.

Too Much Party Politics

At the present time, when our nation is faced with such weighty problems, there appears to be too much party politics being played. He felt that many of our problems could be solved if our nation's leaders would rise above party.

We, as citizens, he stated, should put our shoulders to the wheel, and cease to criticize unduly. He pleaded for more understanding and good will in settling our differences.

The age of the atomic bomb has presented new problems, he pointed out, which are causing our leaders to consider ways and means of de-emphasizing metropolitan areas and sending our industries underground. If any attack is made on this country, and there appeared no imminent danger of such at the present time, it is most likely that Washington will be the center of attack, and that already thought is being given to having a second set of leaders who would be ready to form a new government in the event such a disaster should befall us should an atomic bomb be dropped on our capital.

The problem of 1947, he stated, may be the problem of understanding or misunderstanding between groups and nations. It is the problem which confronts every one of us.

Rotary could do much toward building a house of good will, he said in conclusion, and we might well offer a prayer to that giver of all wisdom to "give us wisdom." We might ask ourselves, "Is Rotary rendering the largest possible service to mankind? It might well be something for us to look to in the days ahead."

CAMERA-GUN SHOOTING INVESTIGATOR KILLED AS HE BATTLES POLICE

boast that "he would not be taken alive" spread out, "Indian style" in a circle surrounding him.

A state trooper fired a shot into the air and yelled for Ruocco to give himself up quietly.

Ruocco answered the call to surrender by quickly leaping out of his sleeping bag, with a German-made pistol in each hand. He blasted four shots in the direction of the voice, none of which hit anyone.

Hail Of Bullets

A veritable hail of rifle and pistol fire answered his challenge. Nine bullets riddled his body, killing him instantly.

News of his death was withheld from his former wife, Olga Trapani, 26, who is slowly recovering in a New York hospital after the amputation of her left leg, last Thursday.

Ruocco had been the object of an intensive search since his ex-wife was shot and wounded critically in a Times Square subway station in New York City Dec. 31.

A fantastic "camera-gun" which was camouflaged by a gay Christmas wrapped package ripped large chunks of flesh from her lower leg when a young woman "dope" pulled the trigger on a sawed off shotgun which she had thought was a hidden camera.

Posed As Investigator

The girl, Pearl Lusk, 19, has been held in $10,000 bail as a material witness since the shooting. She told authorities that Ruocco, posing as an insurance investigator had hired her to "photograph" the lower portion of Miss Trapani's body.

He had told her the "camera" was a special kind that would show whether the woman was carrying a belt concealing stolen jewels.

While being removed to the hospital, Miss Trapani told police Ruocco had made a previous attempt to kill her and that he wanted to maintain her for life, so she would come back to him.

to jurisdictional strikes, but said a ban on secondary boycotts and provision for compulsory arbitration would "require further study."

Sen. Ferguson (R., Mich.) and other Republicans took the position that they "know the evils" and need only to get at correcting them.

Sen. Taft (R.) Ohio GOP policy chairman and head of the senate labor committee, said he saw no chance of beginning hearings on the bill introduced by Ball until next week.

Ball Measure

The Ball measure sets up a federal mediation board in the labor department, removes supervisory employees from coverage by the Wagner act, outlaws the secondary boycott, and jurisdictional strikes, makes unions liable in the courts and requires registration of their financial status with the secretary of labor.

Sen. Morse (R.) Ore., also introduced a bill creating a federal mediation board, but stipulated that it be an independent agency.

Bills attacking the portal to portal pay issue were offered by Sens. Wiley (R.) Wis. and Caperhart (R.) Ind. and by Rep. Smith (D.) Va.

Sen. Byrd (D.) Va., bitter foe of John L. Lewis in last summer's welfare fund controversy, dropped in a bill banning the closed shop under a $5,000 fine-one-year jail term penalty.

To Seize Funds

Rep. Dondoro (R.) Mich. proposed that the attorney general be authorized to move to seize the funds of any union which comes under the influence or control of a "foreign agency." The bill, it was said, was directed against Communists, Fascists or other "subversive" groups.

President Truman asked for early legislation to wipe out jurisdictional strikes and some secondary boycotts. He limited the latter to those boycotts "used to further jurisdictional disputes or to compel employers to violate the National Labor Relations Act."

He went on record against "punitive legislation" and contended that management shared with labor the responsibility for "failure to reach agreements which would have averted strikes" in 1946.

"Another Stall?"

The president asked for creation of a temporary joint commission to investigate the "entire field of labor-management relations." He suggested this commission make its first report with specific recommendations by March 15.

Republican spokesmen turned thumbs down on this study proposal as something suggested before but ignored by the Democrats. Ferguson viewed it as "another stall" and contended that anything requiring study couldn't be readily by March 15.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY CONVENES AT NOON AT STATE CAPITOL

the salary bill for the 1947-48 biennium.

Caucuses Held

The 160 GOP representatives caucused last night and moved that the lower chamber meet at 12:01 a. m. Thursday to take final house action on the measure.

Senate Republicans will caucus today to determine whether the upper chamber, which will recess for one day after today's meeting, will meet at 12:01 a. m. Friday or that afternoon to speed work on the bill, according to Majority Leader Weldon B. Heyburn (R.) Delaware.

Under present plans, final legislative action on the measure will be taken January 20 when the General Assembly reconvenes after a 10-day recess. Governor-elect James H. Duff was expected to sign the bill following his inauguration January 21.

Lichtenwalter Speaker

Thirty-six-year-old Franklin H. Lichtenwalter of Lehigh appeared assured of election as speaker of the house succeeding Rep. Ira T. Fiss, of Snyder.

Because of GOP domination of the chamber, Lichtenwalter was expected easily to defeat Rep. Harry P. O'Neill (D.) Lackawanna, candidate of the 38-member minority bloc.

Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, of Dauphin, nominated by his Republican colleagues for a second term as president pro tempore, was ill at a Harrisburg hospital and it was expected that Heyburn would take over the duties until the 71-year-old chief returns to the upper chamber.

Democratic legislators caucused at the state house last night and heard "pep talks" from leaders including U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers, of Philadelphia, Mayor David L. Lawrence, of Pittsburgh, and State Chairman J. Warren Mickle.

Kills His Wife, Hands Over Knife In San Francisco

Wilson William Soale, 39, Calmly Confesses Slaying Of 'Cheating Wife'

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—(INS)—A 39-year-old X-ray technician who identified himself as the grandson of a former Indiana supreme court justice was held by police today for the pocket-knife slaying of his wife.

Police said they were summoned last night to a San Francisco hotel room where Wilson William Soale was calmly lying on the bed smoking a cigarette. On the floor of the small room was the body of his nearly nude wife.

Soale handed police a pocket knife with which he said he had stabbed his wife to death in a sudden burst of jealous fury.

Says Wife Cheating

Homicide inspectors quoted Soale as saying:

"I know I've been a bad boy and I'm going to die for it. But she has been cheating on me for six months and I got tired of it."

Coroner deputies said his brunette wife, Gertrude, 34, had been stabbed in the abdomen and neck. In addition, a 14-inch long abdominal incision had been made with what deputies described as "almost surgical" need.

Soale was booked on "suspicion of murder" pending further investigation.

His wife was employed as a waitress in a downtown restaurant. The couple was wed at Los Angeles in 1944.

Soale said he had last worked as a technician at a San Francisco home for the aged.

Fireman Thought Killed In Wreck Near Findlay, O.

FINDLAY, O., Jan. 7.—(INS)—A New York Central railroad fireman was buried in the wreckage of his engine and believed killed today when a northbound freight car jumped the track and struck a southbound train on a siding one mile north of Findlay.

The fireman was identified as Harold Goetz, 25, of Columbus.

The state highway patrol reported the engine and 16 coal cars were derailed on the southbound train.

Engineer Fay Green of South Wayne avenue Columbus received leg injuries as he leaped to safety.

Authorities said the train was halted on a siding when the passing car left the main track and crashed into the standing engine.

MARSHALL CHARGES COMMUNISTS SEEKING COLLAPSE OF CHINA

Communist reports of the sniping incident in which three U. S. marines were killed and 12 wounded in ambush while conveying UNRRA supplies.

The Communists charged they had been attacked but Marshall declared:

"The investigation of this incident was a tortuous procedure of delays and maneuvers to disguise the true and privately admitted facts of the case."

He said:

"It has been difficult to remain silent in the midst of such public abuse and wholesale disregard of facts."

Major Reorganization?

He noted that the Chinese government is to undergo a major reorganization.

War Bride Held On Theft Charges

BUTLER, Jan. 7.—(INS)—A 19-year-old Australian war bride, in Butler county jail charged with larceny. She is accused of stealing $22 from a purse in the house where she lived. According to police, the girl's husband was committed to the jail recently on moral charges.

The girl, left without income by her husband's arrest, allegedly used the money to buy clothes and for living expenses. The girl was trapped when the owner of the money reported that two of the bills taken, $50 notes, had been marked.

Checking with a store where the young war bride made her purchases the bills were found and the girl confronted. Under questioning she admitted the theft, telling police that a $1,500 money order which she expected from her home in Australia never appeared. The girl reportedly wanted to use the money order to return to Australia.

FAITH

WORLD'S PROBLEMS

The reliable person accepts the work entrusted to him with good grace; tackles each task with a light heart; fulfills every obligation in a painstaking manner, and follows each deal through to a clean finish.

If he would be good to his fellowmen, he must not expect gratitude. Your kindness will often be repaid with abuse. That is the price you must pay (for being the benevolent one). That is your sacrifice.

We often wonder if the word gratitude has been taken out of the world's vocabulary.

Model 1947

Today 208 men and women raised their hands and swore to defend the Constitution of the United States and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This was in the House of Representatives in Harrisburg. At the same time, some twenty-odd state senators did likewise in the senate chamber. The balance of the senate members are holdovers.

All of them will convene for but one purpose. To pass upon legislation for the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the next two years. It's a job any time, but this year it is an even greater job.

The General Assembly will be deluged with legislation of all kinds. Salary raises, clean stream bills, highway bills, banking bills, bills without end, all of them thought to be the cure for some ill that besets the commonwealth.

Chief among the bills presented will be increases for school teachers, stream pollution legislation, highway legislation, a bonus for veterans, and perhaps labor legislation.

All of them are important, all of them must be approached with thought and intelligence. If the General Assembly increases the expenditures of the commonwealth, it must also increase the revenues, and this means taxes.

If the commonwealth is to remain solvent, then its expenditures must not exceed its revenues. If the people are not to groan too loudly under the burden of increased taxation, then the taxes must not be too severe.

It all adds up to a problem, a problem that the General Assembly of 1947 must solve. In the press of lobbyists for certain legislation, the members should remember they are legislating for approximately ten million people. In their desire to increase expenditures for any purpose, however laudable, they must also realize that the money must be secured through taxation.

The Harrisburg Merry-Go-Round hasn't such a gay outlook this year. There's a job to be done, a much more serious job than has been presented for some years.

Not A Military Alliance

Official statement from London that the United States and Great Britain have agreed to standardize "certain items of military equipment" and to "co-operate" to which it is easy to give a completely wrong interpretation. A French Socialist newspaper already has done just that, through its editorial pronouncement that an actual military alliance has been effected and that British and American armies will soon be forged into a single fighting arm prepared to go into action anywhere in the world.

There is small reason to believe that anything of this latter sort is proposed. For one thing a formal alliance could not be achieved without consent of Congress and, lacking assurances of approval, no American authorities would even dare to suggest it seriously. For another it would hardly be a practical arrangement from a purely military standpoint. The obstacles in the way of unification of forces of different nations and uniform training in peacetime would be too great to overcome.

What has happened and doubtless all that has happened is that the United States and Great Britain, 100 per cent certain in their own minds that they will never have cause to fight each other, are trying to make it easier to fight side by side in case another war and as they were compelled to do in the past two wars. Looking in that direction they have moved to design weapons that are common to both their armies and perhaps to build planes, tanks, etc., with interchangeable parts.

That is not a case of pointing a gun at anybody, as the friends of the Soviet may be quick to claim, is best illustrated by the fact that Great Britain, according to the London statement, is "not averse to standardizing military equipment with the Russians." This in itself should allay suspicion that anything approaching an Anglo-American alliance is contemplated.

Shameful Fire Record

The year which has ended was the worst in our history in the way of loss of life and property by fire. When the final figures are tabulated, the total waste will probably touch $600,000,000—and the destruction of life will approach 11,000.

There can be no alibi for this. It is too late for excuses. What we can do is to affirm that 1947 will tell a different story when the year closes.

Our first realization, as individuals, must be that almost all fires are the result of the human element. A man is careless, a man is ignorant and destructive fire strikes. The fire which could not be prevented is extremely rare.

We must understand, secondly, that the prevention of most fires is the simplest of tasks. A new lamp cord, a clean attic, a minor repair to a heating plant, a fire extinguisher or fire escape—such attentions as these would have prevented a very large part of last year's terrible loss of life and materials. This comes straight home to the individual, and no one can escape his share of the responsibility.

Third, there is obvious need for education of the individual in what to do if he is in a building attacked by fire. Ignorance in this field was the cause of many of the deaths in the recent hotel disasters. In Atlanta, men and women jumped to destruction from window ledges—in the face of pleas by firemen who were preparing nets and ladders. In both Chicago and Atlanta, people threw open doors and windows thus creating drafts that simply fanned the flames.

All of us should feel shame at 1946's terrible fire record. And all of us should resolve that it will be improved in 1947.

WASHINGTON CALLING
by MARQUIS CHILDS

Congressman Knutson Links Tariff, Taxes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—In the brief biography which he supplies for The Record, Representative Harold Knutson lists his home as Manhattan Beach, Minn. But it has been a long time since Manhattan Beach in Minnesota's resort country has been anything but a temporary stopping point for Congressman Knutson.

Since 1917, Knutson has been a member of Congress. He is a prime example of the seniority system works in Congress.

Stocky, bull-voiced Congressman Knutson has through the years ridden the convenient escalator of seniority. It has carried him up and, with him, a set of prejudices and convictions that are at least pre-World War I, if not pre-Spanish-American war.

Now, thanks to the seniority escalator, Knutson becomes chairman of the ways and means committee of the House. Thereby he becomes one of the most powerful figures in the new Congress.

The functions of this committee, unchanged by the congressional reorganization, are extremely important. It has to do with revenues, the federal debt, tariffs and reciprocal trade. These are the very matters most likely to determine U. S. policy in the coming months.

Friend Of Big Business Through the years, Knutson has made himself the spokesman of big business. He can always be counted on to echo the desires not of the enlightened wing of business, such as is represented on the committee for economic development, but of the standstillers who think in terms of unlimited profits behind the protection of a government tariff wall.

In introducing a bill to cut income tax by 20 percent, Knutson is being perfectly consistent. Such a tax cut will mean greater benefit for the big taxpayer in the upper brackets and only very slight benefit for the man with a small income on the lower levels of the income tax pyramid.

As a gesture to those who have criticized the proposal, Knutson has made the 20 percent cut apply only to incomes up to $300,000 a year. Above $300,000, the cut will be only 10.5 percent. But this is an empty and rather silly gesture, since only about 600 persons in 1943 received more than $300,000 annually. Some of Knutson's Republican colleagues had hoped that the 20 percent cut—a part of campaign oratory—would be forgotten.

But the danger inherent in Knutson's power-plus-prejudice is not so much on the positive as on the negative side. Republicans of more than half a century ago, with a consciousness of the need to scale down the federal tax, are likely to check the 20 percent rampart. Even if it should be approved by the House, it would almost certainly be stopped in the Senate.

On the negative side, however, as a blocking tackle, Knutson can do great harm. He can block those steps which must be taken if the United States is to lead the way toward a revival of world trade. We are the only country that can lead such a revival. When full production is achieved and the backlog of demands is satisfied in this country, we shall need to send our goods into world markets. The 10 percent that we export may well be the margin between prosperity and the serious lack of it.

Must Reduce Tariffs Recently in California, Dr. Stephen Enke of the University of California at Los Angeles told the Pacific Coast Economic Association some plain truths. He said:

"The issue is really this. Public opinion will have to force Congress to change its attitude and reduce tariff of the United States will have to give up its dream of leadership in world trade."

And if we give up that dream, the world goes back to the system of preferential trading, to self-sufficiency, to the thousand and one devices that meant in the end not economic warfare but stagnating warfare. The choice is very clear. The next two years will determine the outcome.

The congressman from Manhattan Beach subject to public opinion? That is the question before the House. Can he be persuaded to modify his pre-William McKinley point of view on tariff and taxes? Apparently in his own staunchly Republican district, Knutson has never had to worry about opinion. He can become the mouthpiece of reactionary business and yet the voters of the sixth Minnesota district send him back to Washington time after time. The solid figure of Harold Knutson moving up on the seniority escalator, his prejudices out of the past of politics and in fact, is a symbol of today.

THE YOUNG, OLD HEART

He woke to greet the day
As if he knew
Somewhere along the way
Some charm he'd view.

Life held supreme delight;
Here the day's end
He felt, perhaps, he might
Have a new friend.

All deeds of human skill
Captured his mind.
In the day's work a thrill
He seemed to find.

Glad down the years to see
All the days hold.
Three-score and ten! But he Wouldn't grow old.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)

Moscow radio says our poets did a poor job in the war... More and more it becomes obvious we needed the atom bomb to turn back the forces of evil.

The complaint is that while Russian rhymsters were energizing with epics, our boys were quibbling with couplets.

Still the arts were heavy contributors to victory... Who can ever forget Toscanini's threat never to downbeat his baton again until Fascism had crumpled.

That gesture alone plus a little help from the armed forces polished off Mussolini.

We have a painter over here now who defied the Axis gangsters by boarding ship and sailing away from them in 1939... He waved his brushes at them from 3,000 miles distance and they couldn't lay a finger on him.

Moscow can complain but we know the typewriters that were stilled, the brushes that tilted in turpentine, the pens that would write under water but not under war.

Be still Moscow... We know heroes when we see them.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Christmas has come and gone, and once again we are hanging our Santa Claus suits and winking back in the attic and resuming the realities of life.

But it was a nice period, wasn't it? Forgotten were all the evils of everyday life and for a short while we were kids again—kids to whom the world is a lovely place of fun and hope and friendship and good will and play.

For a short while tinsel became silver and gold and Christ walked among us again.

So I felt very sorry for old man George Bernard Shaw, who expressed his regrets that the Society for the Abolition of Christmas, which was founded by him fifty years ago and of which, he says, he is the only member, is such a dismal failure.

To him, Christmas is "simply a nuisance, supported by the mob as a carnival of meadacity, gluttony and drunkenness."

I remember my early newspaper and writing days. I, too, was a confirmed cynic and I could see very little but bad and evil in the world.

In those days I considered Shaw the epitome of literature and I tried as hard as I could to surpass him in cynicism and satire.

But as I got older and worked my way through the college of hard knocks, I lost my cynicism and became mellow and more tolerant with every year.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Q. May the wife or child of a veteran be granted hospital or domiciliary care by Veterans Administration because of the relationship to the veteran?

A. No. Admission to a Veterans Administration hospital or home is based on the service of a person in the armed forces and may be granted only to the persons who served.

Q. I am an honorably discharged veteran and have been committed to a Federal prison. Am I entitled to receive compensation for my service-connected disability?

A. Yes. The fact that you are in a prison will not affect your right to the pension which has been allowed you.

Q. Does the name "United States Government Life (converted) Insurance" include "National Service Life Insurance?"

A. No. "United States Government Life Insurance" is insurance issued to World War I veterans or to persons who applied for same while in active service before October 8, 1940. "National Service Life Insurance" is insurance provided for World War II veterans. Each is sometimes referred to as "Government Insurance" and each is administered by Veterans Administration under authority granted by Acts of Congress.

Q. For what term of years can a guaranteed loan be made?

A. Payments must be such that they will repay a home or business real estate loan within 25 years, a farm real estate loan within 40 years, and a non-real estate loan within 10 years.

Q. Is it possible for a disabled veteran taking vocational training under Public Law 16 to make a small loan from the Government?

A. Yes, but loans cannot exceed $100 and they are made only to veterans approved for vocational rehabilitation when the need is shown.

Q. What restrictions are there on holders of National Service Life Insurance?

A. NSLI is free from restrictions as to residence, travel, occupation or military or naval service. The insured may live where he likes, go where he will or engage in any occupation; his government insurance policy still provides protection.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

VETERANS HAVE PROVEN WORTH

About three-quarters of a million veterans of World War II are going to college, and at Uncle Sam's expense. Nothing else Congress ever did for war veterans and their country was a wiser service than this. Thanks to the GI Bill of Rights, some hundreds of thousands of young Americans of ability and ambition are gaining a higher education, who otherwise would have been prevented by economic barriers from doing so.

As I have gone about the nation and asked high school principals and deans of colleges what kind of a student the average GI is, the answer always has been highly favorable. Most have said he is superior.

A Careful Study

In a recent issue of "School and Society," Dr. Raymond Walters, president of Cincinnati University, reports a careful study of "Veterans' Education and the Colleges and Universities." Harvard teachers reported to him that veterans last spring did superior work, "better than our pre-war students." University of Tennessee faculty: "The veterans have done a better scholastic job than the non-veterans." University of Utah: "Noticeably superior work." University of Wisconsin: "Veterans ahead of non-veterans in five colleges." University of Illinois: "Caliber of scholarship of veterans 'has been extraordinarily good.' Swarthmore: "Good quality." Connecticut: "High grade of work." Wesleyan: "Outstanding academic work." And so on. Dean Walters adds that in the College of Law of the University of Cincinnati veterans now in class "are among the best ever to attend this century-old school."

What of their conduct and influence? A Princeton professor said: "Where are the psychiatric problems we had been led to expect? Our veterans are normal, fine youths."

Housing Facilities

With so many students pouring in upon them, the colleges and universities have found themselves short on qualified teachers and equipment, especially housing facilities. Nor is there nearly adequate housing accommodation in the college towns and cities. The consequent hardships are very great for GI students with families.

I've been receiving some letters from GI students who ask why any college should register students and accept money when living conditions on the campus and outside are "so horrible." Perhaps some institutions deserve this criticism. But, as President Walters points out, colleges and universities are not making money out of the GI. Most of them are losing money, since tuition fees pay only from 40 to 50 per cent of the institutions' expense for private institutions and less for state-supported institutions.

However, some very small colleges have been able to take on a few hundred GIs without much extra expense, and no doubt a few struggling colleges have been tempted to chisel a bit.

According to estimates, the peak of veteran attendance at colleges will be reached about 1948 and will not drop appreciably before 1950. Therefore, Dr. Walters says that Federal grants to colleges and universities to help provide permanent buildings is imperative if justice is to be meted out to our veterans and to other youths desiring a higher education.

The World and the Mud Puddles

HOLD ON TO THEM

There are moments in every discussion of international relations when the choice lies between theory on one hand and common sense gleaned from experience on the other. In the present controversy over retaining possession of the Pacific Islands won from the Japanese, President Truman seems to be on the side of common sense and common sense. We have bought those islands at a precious price of American blood. We need them as a basis of our national security. No other nation has any valid claim to them. As thus far disclosed, their inhabitants would welcome American possession and rule.

What interests are predicated on adoption and rule of these islands? Two things: The theoretical, academic idea of a few ideologists that we may be violating the rights of "minorities" in these cases wholly incapable of self-government. The other objection is that our control of these islands may be inaceptable to Russia—or some other unnamed foreign power.

So far as canvassed, the "minorities" involved are all in favor of the United States and would welcome the opportunity for development under American standards. They have seen the magnificent work of our country in the Philippines. So far as other canvasses show, these peoples would welcome the protection of the American flag.

Byrnes May Quit Post After Treaty-Signing
State Secretary Likely To Step Down Shortly
Universal Training Plan May Strike Snag

(Special To The News) WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Despite frequent disclaimers, those who have followed Secretary of State Byrnes' activities in shaping the peace treaties believe he may resign once the documents for Europe are drafted.

There is no direct evidence to support his theory, but guesses are based largely on the fact that Byrnes has devoted his time so assiduously to the overwhelming task of dealing with Moscow.

Byrnes undoubtedly is consulted on other matters of broad policy. But, it is pointed out, he has very little contact with other routine affairs, especially in connection with Latin America and the Far East.

Even when Byrnes is in Washington, he leaves much detail work to Undersecretary Acheson. The undersecretary, for instance, handled all the political work in connection with the recent visit of Greek Premier Constantine Tsaldaris. He also conferred with French Ambassador Bonnet when the latter was called to the State Department to discuss troubles in Indo-China.

Because of this the prophets have Byrnes stepping out after the Moscow conference if he meets with success in settling European problems. The more conservative, however, see Byrnes remaining to work out the Jap peace treaty because of possible clashes with Russia.

Few girls nowadays have to worry about politics interfering with their prospects of marriage unless their fathers are die-hard Republicans or Democrats.

But Princess Elizabeth of England is finding her road to matrimony liberally strewn with prickly thorns of the British policy in Greece.

British court circles make no secret of the fact that Prince Philip of Greece is Elizabeth's leading suitor. He is seen at public functions with her frequently and he will get his British citizenship in February.

However, the government is divided over his eligibility to be her prince consort. Some accuse him of being a monarchist; others think that Britain's monarchial system is under adequate control and Elizabeth should be permitted to choose her own husband.

But parliament still is racked with widespread criticism of the government's policy of keeping troops in Greece. And it is thought that announcement of their engagement would give the oppositionists more ammunition.

The consensus on Capitol Hill is that any universal training program that includes instruction in military

Views Of The News

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(U. S. Foreign Editor)

Field Marshal Lord Montgomery's "mission to Moscow" held out great hopes for a furtherance of cooperation among the nations of Europe today.

But at the same time it inevitably recalled an earlier event of much the same sort which proved to be a blunder with few parallels in the history of British diplomacy and its recollection served to underscore the changing tides of human destiny.

Montgomery of Alamein, hero of British campaigns in North Africa and upon whose genius Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower called when the Germans raced for Bastogne on a fateful December day, undertook his journey to the Soviet capital at the express invitation of Premier Josef Stalin.

To Solidify Friendship His object was to renew and solidify friendship between the British and Russian armed forces—not for future wars, but in behalf of peace.

This was precisely the same assignment given to another distinguished British figure in the year 1933, when it became painfully apparent that Adolf Hitler was determined to destroy Poland. The difference lies in the fact that while Montgomery, although he now is a discount of the royal realm, remains a crusty, outspoken Irishman.

His predecessor on a military junket to the proletarian capital bore an almost fantastically unpronounceable name.

It was Admiral The Honorable Sir Reginald Aylmer Ranfurly Plunkett-Erle-Edre-Drak, 18th baron of his line, a hero at Jutland and Dogger bank in the first world war and a mainstay of the British admiralty.

Object Of Other Mission The object of his mission was to bring about a military agreement among Britain, Russia and France to forestall German aggression, and in particular to prevent the rape of Poland.

Rumor has it that Moscow, whose newspapers refer to the Russians' own supreme leader simply as "Stalin" without even the dignity of a "Mr." before his name, was more than bewildered by the vaillant Britisher's array of titles, it even was said he was kept waiting on the front porch of the Kremlin for a tedious time before his identity could be established.

In any case, his mission was a complete failure. A short time after he left, Russia signed up with Germany and within ten days Germany was down Poland's throat.

Presumably, "Monty" will be permitted to see everything he wants to see about the existing Soviet military machine. If this should be the case, his report upon returning to London's ancient war office just opposite the cenotaph on Whitehall will make historic reading.

Lord Montgomery of Alamein never pulled his punches, on the battlefields or in councils of state.

Pittsburgh Scout Nearly Strangles

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Ten-year-old Cub Scout Michael Janczura, of Pittsburgh, was in serious condition in a hospital oxygen tent today as a result of his first try at knot-tying.

Michael, who joined his Cub pack just three months ago, received his Scout handbook last week.

Last night he began practicing knot-tying while his mother was at a movie.

Michael got an old necktie, looped it around a doorknob and made several successful knots. On his last one, however, the boy became entangled with the tie knotted around his neck.

Michael's nine-year-old sister saw him strangling and screamed. A neighbor rushed into the Janczura home and cut the knot but Michael was unconscious.

Police administered first aid and rushed him to St. Francis hospital where he was placed in an oxygen tent.

Great Books Forum Resumes Next Week

Resuming the Great Books forums that were so popular before the holiday season, the public library announces that the topic for next week's meeting will be "Higher Learning in America" by Robert Hutchins, with Sally Norris as the reader.

The session will start at 7:30 Tuesday evening, January 14, in the assembly room of the library, and is open to all who may wish to attend. Men and women, boys and girls have all enjoyed the past meetings which were organized during the summer by Abraham Krash, graduate student of the University of Chicago.

Robert Hutchins, whose work will be studied next week, is the president of Chicago university and was, at the time he accepted the position, the youngest educator ever to be head of as large a school. His extensive influence on the American education system has caused wide discussion and argument, and is certain to make good material for the forum.

California Club Merges With A.A.A.

Automobile Club of Southern California Now A Part Of The A.A.A.

Affiliation of the Automobile club of Southern California with the American Automobile Association, making it the largest and only nationwide motoring organization in the United States, was announced by B. J. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor club.

"Affiliation of this important club, with 235,000 members, completes the national service network of the American Automobile Association and brings total membership of the AAA well past the 2,000,000 mark," Mr. Hanlon stated.

"Officials of both the AAA and of the Automobile club of Southern California hailed the association of the two motoring organizations as a great triumph in the interests of the motoring public," the official of the local club declared.

"In announcing the decision to affiliate, Harry J. Bauer, president of the Automobile club of Southern California, said that for almost 50 years his club has been pre-eminent among individual motor clubs in the United States in improving conditions in its territory," Mr. Hanlon said.

"The New Castle Motor club welcomes the affiliation to the ranks of the AAA of the Automobile club of Southern California," he concluded, and it is with great confidence and satisfaction with which we can now provide a greater, more efficient service than ever before on a nation-wide basis to our members."

Inauguration Is Well Carried Out

Military Precision Marks Ceremonies For Bell Induction At Capitol

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The inauguration January 2 of Gov. John C. Bell was carried out with military precision. It was evident to many of the persons attending the ceremony that it had been arranged by U. S. Sen. Edward Martin, a retired army major general. Martin was a stickler for punctuality while governor. The ceremony, broadcast statewide, came off without any major difficulty although at one point State Supreme Court Chief Justice George W. Moxey of Scranton, halted momentarily during the administration of the oath of office. Snapping of flash bulbs by photographers created some disturbance for a brief period and made it difficult for spectators to hear part of the oath.

Pennsylvania Republican leaders have turned their eyes to Washington to watch Martin, whom many regard as a possible presidential candidate in 1948. Some GOP chieftains have expressed the belief that Martin, a veteran of a half century in politics, will make an excellent record during his initial year as Pennsylvania's junior senator and may gain nationwide recognition.

Battles over increased unemployment compensation were expected to be fought in the general assembly this year. Both the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (A. F. L.) and the Pennsylvania Industrial Union Council (C. I. O.) were preparing to press for a boost in jobless benefits from $20 to $25 weekly with a maximum of 26 weeks payments. The present law provides for a $10 weekly minimum and $20 maximum for 20 weeks. Both labor organizations were planning to press for $12 minimum payments.

One of the best-lined high state officials has been Robert P. Wray, of Pennsylvania, acting secretary of Public Assistance. Most persons at the State capital will concede that Wray has done an "excellent job" of administering relief to Pennsylvania's needy. It has been reported in some quarters that Wray will be retained in the post by Governor-elect James H. Duff. An exhaustive "case by case" check of the more than 280,000 public assistance recipients has been planned by Duff to determine way the cost of relief was so high. Duff emphasized that he had no criticism of Wray or the department.

Benjamin C. Jones, publisher of the Tyrone Herald, has been mentioned on Capitol Hill as a leading candidate for the adjutant general's post in governor-elect James H. Duff's cabinet. Jones, former chief of staff of Pennsylvania's 28th division, was a colonel during World War II assigned to the New York port of embarkation. The State American Legion has thrown its support behind Brig. Gen. Frank A. Weber, of Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania State Guard commander. Weber is deputy adjutant general. Another possible candidate for the $10,000-a-year post, some leaders report, was Maj. Gen. E. J. Stackpole, of Harrisburg, commander of the 28th Division of the reorganized P. N. G. Brig. Gen. Robert M. Vail, present adjutant general, was expected to retire January 21. He will be 72 on April 24.

There have been reports at the State House that Seth Gordon, of Harrisburg, would be retained by Duff as executive director of the Pennsylvania Game commission. The post pays $10,000-a-year. Gordon served as commission executive secretary from 1919 to 1936 when he was named conservation director of the Isaac Walton League of America. After five years in that post, Gordon resigned to become president of the American Game association. He returned to the State commission January 1, 1936.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

Younger Slant On The Town

New Year's Eve...found Dick Muse being extremely philosophical. Jack McNeil dating blonde Ilona Stevenson. Ruth McGaffie entertaining a crowd of kids in her home. Betty Leiberger and her date, "Junior," not showing up at Ruth's party. A gaily dressed crowd enjoying the dancing at the country club. Some kids wheeling off as far as Yankee Lake and Pittsburgh to celebrate. Well, it was fun, but here's another year...and so far it isn't too different.

Jim Lafferty has pledged Phi Kappa Sigma at Penn State. Lafferty is a junior in commerce and finance.

George Rhodes flew home from Baltimore to spend the holidays here. He's now gone back to his job with the Eastern Stainless Steel in Maryland.

Denis Royston can cover territory between here and Westminster with a new black chevrolet in his own possession. His sister Phoebe (now Mrs. Chris Clark) lives in California.

Denis visited out there last summer. Edith Master has gone back to Drexel after spending two weeks at home.

Lucille Fair and Larry Cromie have picked Valentine's day, dedicated to all sweethearts, as their wedding day. Good day, and a couple of good kids.

Isabel Braham was hoping to learn to knit during Christmas vacation, because so many of her classmates at Smith college are clicking on aryle socks.

Frances Dickey (Mrs. Tom W. Jr.) is up again after a 10-day bout with a cold germ.

Dick Dean has gone back to Parks Air college in East St. Louis, Ill., a friend of his was home with him during vacation. Gordon Vars of Duncannon, Pa., he's a student at Antioch college, Yellow Springs, Ohio.

And Mimi Kirk brought a friend home with her from the University of Chicago.

How's this for keeping a secret? Jean Brown, a reporter on the Sharon Herald and Jack Allen, who works in the circulation department of the "Herald" were married in New Castle on October 1. No one on the Sharon paper found out about it until Christmas Day, when the kids made their announcement. The best part is that the witnesses were yours truly and another reporter from the "News"...that was what crushed the "Herald's" managing editor.

William Earl Waddington, F. I. C. MOMM, has gone back to Florida after his holiday leave. He's on LSM 483, stationed at Green Coast Springs, Fla. In New Castle he's stationed at 107 East Lincoln avenue.

Mary Lou Fulkerson was sitting calmly toasting her toast in front of the stove at Miller's pond when a couple of fellows came up, took off both skates, put her shoes on her feet, said "that will be ten cents," and left. Surely that service isn't becoming customary at skating ponds.

Jane Coates, home from Washington, D. C., and her date were out with Jane's sister Mary Esther and her date during vacation. Mary Esther is a Washington coed.

Dick Stevenson and his wife, the former Jean Wimer, also stepped out while they were home. Dick is going to the University of Pennsylvania now that he's shed his naval officer's uniform.

And at The Castleton one evening were Marian Duff, looking very happy with her fiancé, Ken Marshall. They will be married on January 23. Saturday morning in St. Mary's church.

Another Castleton twosome was Bill Chip and his wife (Jean Waddington).

Bob Johnson was in Pittsburgh, taking in some concerts, plays and other things.

And this week...have an interesting time.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

against predatory nations, knowing our own selfish and altruistic purposes.

The chief form of opposition to our control of these islands, which we have redeemed from Japanese tyranny, comes from those who fear that our development of security bases in the Pacific may meet objections from Russia. These objections, in view of our mission to Russia of the Far East, the southern half of Sakhalin and temporary suzerainty over half of Korea, may readily be discounted on the basis of equity and common sense.

The United States is the only nation in the world, which, in two world wars (in which it was the main financial resource) never asked or expected territorial gains. It is the only nation which, in the interest of peace, was willing to forego indemnities and reparations. In the present demand for control of strategic islands, bought by American blood, it is asking only for some insurance of security. We hope that Congress stands unflinchingly behind President Truman's demands.

Pfc. Donald E. Clark, son of Mrs. McKinley Stuart, Route 4, has arrived in the European theater and will soon be assigned to duties with the occupational air forces. Before entering the service, Pfc. Health Talks By DR. W. A. WOMER City Health Superintendent

PILLS AND APPENDICITIS

Americans are said to be a nation of pill takers. If a man wants to get rich all he has to do is to advertise a laxative. The pills roll out and the money rolls in.

Pill taking is usually a bad habit. Appendicitis is a dangerous disease. It usually begins with pain or discomfort somewhere in the lower part of the body.

If the pain is severe or if it lasts a good while, it is probably wise to see a doctor about it.

It is dangerous to take pills or laxatives for a pain in the belly.

Pain pills may cover up the danger till it is too late. Laxatives may cause a diseased appendix to burst.

Mother Hears Son Over Blind Radio Operator's Station

Contact Made To Germany By Joyful Blind 'Ham'; Soldier
Overseas 27 Months

MORRISVILLE, Pa., Jan. 7.—(INS)—A blind radio "ham" and a Carlisle mother were both happy today following a short-wave broadcast to Frankfurt, Germany.

Mrs. Ruth Bushey, 51, was happy because she talked with her soldier-son, First Lt. William Bushey, for the first time since he went overseas 27 months ago.

And Joseph Piechowski, 33, was overjoyed because the conversation took place through his amateur station, W3FNL, on a 10-meter radio telephone hook-up with an Army Signal Corps station in Frankfurt.

Piechowski first contacted the signal corps station on Christmas Day and found he was talking with Lt. Bushey. And so his mother drove 200 miles to Morrisville yesterday for the radio chat.

To make things even better, another amateur operator, Joseph Patrick, 32, of Trenton, N. J., made a record of the conversation by prearrangement and rushed it to Mrs. Bushey before she left for home.

Piechowski, although blind, also works as a drill press operator in Trenton and has aided in development of a new type of electronic reading for the blind.

Propose Limit On President's Terms

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—House members on Monday introduced a number of amendments to the constitution designed to limit the tenure of presidents in the White House and to increase the term of service of congressmen from two to four years.

Rep. Michener (R) Mich., chairman of the house judiciary committee, introduced a constitutional amendment proposal limiting the tenure of presidents to two terms of four years each, or any part of two separate terms.

Rep. Dondero (R) Mich., proposed that the president and vice-president be elected for terms of six years instead of four and that they shall be prohibited from seeking re-election.

Rep. Lea (D) Cal., proposed that members of the house of representatives shall be elected for a term of four years instead of the present two year term.

All of the amendments must be approved by the house and senate and ratified by at least two-thirds of the states before they become effective.

Hawaiian Student Studies Here At Jewelers' School

New Class Begun Monday Brings
Enrollment Of Pearson Street
School Up To 200

Albert I. Ogawa, of Hawaii, is the first foreign student to be registered at the New Castle Jewelers' Training School, which has been operating for the past seven months at the former Aiken School Building on Pearson Street.

Albert was one of thirty new students that began his studies in the school, Monday, bringing the total enrollment up to 200 students. At present students are in attendance from Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, Illinois, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Idaho and Colorado, with applications coming in from almost every state in the Union.

Mrs. Mary Jo Atlas, of 714 East Main street, a former member of the WAVES began her studies at the school with the new class on Monday, making the fourth female student enrolled in the school's program, which has been approved by the Veterans' Administration.

Began In June 1946

The first class of students in the unique school began their studies on June 3, 1946 and they will graduate with appropriate ceremonies on December 1, 1947. The classes started in one room of the building and have now expanded to such an extent that five rooms are now occupied with construction work going ahead to make several more of the rooms ready for occupancy.

The staff of the school, including teachers, supervisors and others who maintain the building comprises 18 members. Since the recent purchase of the building has been completed, an extensive remodeling program is expected to get under way in the near future. The exterior of the building at the entrance, will be completely remodeled.

The ultimate goal of the school is to have 600 students attending with a class of 500 graduating at the completion of each 12 month course. It was learned today that a cafeteria is to be opened in the building for the accommodation of the students.

Females Shunning Helicopter Field

CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 7.—(INS)—The nation's women, who have invaded virtually all careers considered at one time "for men only" have been faced with a challenge, and prospects are that it will not go unanswered.

There is not one woman among the approximately 55 active civilian helicopter pilots in the country.

This statement comes from the ninety-nines, an organization of women pilots founded by Amelia Earhart in 1929.

So the Middle Eastern Chapter has recommended that the new award of the organization's national scholarship in honor of the famed aviator be given to one of its members for flight and ground course instruction in that field.

The study will be at the country's only commercial helicopter school, initiated by Helicopter Air Transport, Inc., at the Central Airport, Camden.

WAA Offers You Everything From Razors To Trains

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—(INS)—If you're interested in buying a mountain, a locomotive, or a few million razor blades, just see the war assets administration and they'll fix you up.

The mountain, located at Manteca, Cal., is being sold on a strictly cash and carry basis—you've got to take it with you—it consists of about 100,000 tons of magnesium residue.

If the mountain is too much to carry, you can purchase a 40-ton standard gauge steam locomotive for $3,471.20 at the WAA in Kansas City.

And here is a tip for men with tough beards. The WAA office at San Francisco is willing to sell nine million razor blades.

The blades, which come five to a package, are all double edged, so that's enough razor blades to give two-fifths of the males in the U. S. a good shave.

County Record Has Improved

Juvenile Delinquency Shows Remarkable Decrease In Recent Years

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

"Juvenile delinquency in Lawrence county is at its lowest ebb in years, just now," Juvenile and Parole Officer Jack M. Dunlap said today. Supporting his statement Mr. Dunlap said, "at the present time there is not one Lawrence county juvenile confined in Morgantown, White Hill, George Junior Republic, Huntingdon or any of the church homes for delinquents. In addition, there is but one juvenile confined in the detention home."

Recently Mrs. Helen Glenn Tyson, secretary of the family and child welfare division of the Public Charity Association, was in New Castle and commented upon the low cost of maintaining juvenile delinquents in this county. Mrs. Tyson said Lawrence county's cost was about half of most of the sixth class counties of the state.

Just why the delinquency rate should be so low here compared to other counties is hard to say but the facts seem to speak for themselves.

OVER 8000 INSTRUMENTS

The office of register and recorder reached and passed the mark of 8000 instruments when the total reached 8022 at the close of business for Saturday, January 4, the last day of the official year in the office. This is more than twice as many instruments as were recorded in 1936.

The total of letters testamentary and administration reached 376 during the year, 15 more than in 1945. Of these 201 were letters testamentary and 175 letters of administration. The year was a tremendous one in the register and recorder's office.

ONE IN THIRTY-EIGHT

What are your chances of getting a divorce in Lawrence county? That is, providing you want one. The figures for 1946 show your chances of not getting it one out of 38.

Of the 341 cases heard in the year, 329 were granted and three were continued. Only nine were refused and these were contested divorces. Rarely is a divorce action contested. Either of the spouses files a libel, charging cruel and barbarous treatment, indignities to person, desertion, or some other valid ground.

Nine times out of ten the defendant spouse does not appear to defend against the charges and usually the divorce is granted. The two most popular charges are cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to person. Like charity they "cover a multitude of sins". They range from cussing out the breakfast bacon, insulting your wife's friends when they visit your home, to socking her on the jaw when she takes you out of a business double.

As you might imagine, divorce is not difficult in Pennsylvania. All that it takes is a year's residence, the presence of ground and the absence of the other spouse from contesting the divorce. And high as Lawrence county's rate is. It is not as high as other counties comparable in size.

SPEED IN DUPLICATES

The effect of the new addressograph system installed by the county commissioners last year is now beginning to be seen. In past years the tax duplicates have not been sent to the collectors until late in February or March. With January just under way the duplicates for Enon Valley and Little Beaver township have been completed and sent out and work on 15 other districts is nearly completed.

The addressograph saves time in the commissioners' office and also saves the collector a lot of work. It should also be reflected in labor costs in the commissioners' office.

ANCIENT PICTURE

In the small room just off court room No. 1, formerly the judges' chambers, there is an old picture that is showing the ravages of time. There is no glass over the picture and the dust and grime are taking their toll. It is a picture of an early bar association, perhaps the first picture of the bar taken after Judge William D. Wallace went on the bench and he was the first judge of Lawrence county after it was made a separate judicial district.

There are pictures of 65 attorneys in the group, including Judge Wallace, and in the center, larger than any of the others is the picture of David B. Kurtz, once an outstanding member of the local bar.

There may be other copies of the old picture in existence but it is doubtful. Even if there are, this one should be preserved. As a suggestion to the Lawrence County Bar Association we would like to ask that the picture be restored, that glass be put in the frame in order that the picture might be preserved. Of the 65 men pictured in the group, there are only four still alive.

RENTALS COLLECTED

Since the installation of the rental system whereby the county charged rent for properties held by the county commissioners after delinquent tax sales, or from 1942 to December 31, 1946, $115,075.04 has been collected. Of this amount much has been distributed to the various political sub-divisions of the county and there is still held in trust $54,711.94.

BUDGET TIME

This is budget time and County Controller Andrew M. Dodds is working overtime getting the figures for all accounts penciled in. When this job is completed a survey of the various departments will be made by the county commissioners and the tax levy decided upon. The present rate is 4 1/2 mills of which 3 1/2 is for general county purposes and one mill is for the institutional department.

Whether or not the millage will be raised is a question, but it is going to take some financial legwork to keep away from it. For a number of years the millage was low and a lot of money from delinquent tax sales was used in operating the county. This has about gone and the millage for 1947 will represent just what it takes to operate the county without any of the "fat" previously available.

SALARY RAISERS

In the session of the Pennsylvania General Assembly which opened Tuesday, a number of salary increase bills will be presented. The judges of the state expect to see a bill presented which will up their stipend and along with the judges there will be many others.

There is one office in sixth class counties which certainly merits a raise, larger in proportion than many other offices, and that is the office of county controller.

The controller is really the office manager, bookkeeper and accountant for the county. He is who oftentimes prevents illegal expenditures of money and the auditing he has to do is amazing. For all this work he is paid $2500 per year.

In justice to many county officers it must be said that an increase this year would do little more than restore them to the point where they were prior to their having to pay income taxes. Back in the late twenties and up to about the mid thirties, governmental employees paid no income tax. With the tax put on them like every other citizen it represented a decrease in salary and there has been no increase for many years.

The last increase for judges was about 1929 when sixth class county judges were raised from $8000 to $10,000. They paid no income tax upon that $10,000, but today the income tax takes the salary back to where it was 20 years ago.

Police Probing Stabbing Attack

Report Man In Case Also Cut Own
Neck With Razor Blade
On Monday

Robert Haas, age 31, of 214 East Park avenue, according to police report, stabbed Pasquale Sapienza, at 111 South Jefferson street, with an ice pick then went home, yesterday afternoon and cut his neck with a razor. He was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital. Sapienza was attended by a physician. Neither is in serious condition. No cause for the act is known.

Police Captain W. G. Mullen, with Detectives Moore and Young, investigated the affair. They also reported they found William Cassella, janitor of the Ecclesian club where Haas is caretaker, with a bruise on his head and dazed. He was unable to state how he received the bruise.

Police Chief Robert D. Hanna swore to an information in which he charged Haas with "surety of the peace" and placed him under police guard, pending arraignment.

Supreme Court Refuses To Review Rent Control Case

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The Supreme Court on Monday refused to review a suit challenging the validity of the Rent Control Law when it operates to deprive landlords of a fair return on investments.

The issue was brought to the high court by the Metropolitan Fair Rent Committee, a voluntary association of New York City landlords which sponsored test cases by four of its members.

The four real estate corporations appealed to the high tribunal from a decision of the U. S. Emergency Court of Appeals holding that the only standard required by the Rent Control Law for establishing maximum rents is:

"Whether the net return of the rental housing industry under regulation is at the level enjoyed in the most recent period in which rents had not been influenced by defense activities."

Heart Disease Sufferers Should Watch Salt Diet

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—(INS)—If your trouble is a congestive heart disease, the current issue of the journal of the American Medical Association warns against excessive salt in the diet.

The journal reported that physicians in the Massachusetts General hospital, Boston, listed improvements in 22 or 35 patients treated. The others showed no improvement, but apparently were none the worse after the experiments.

"Musts" in the diet, the journal reported, included no salt, soda or baking powder. In cooking or at the table, use salt-less butter, salad dressing, canned foods, and avoid salted foods such as nuts, potato chips, olives. The physicians also advised not to use medicines containing sodium.

The salt-restricted diet prevents over-accumulation of fluid which swells tissues.

Britain Withdraws 200 Million Dollars More On U.S. Loan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The British government has withdrawn another 200 million dollars of its three billion, 750 million dollar loan approved by the last Congress. The withdrawal was revealed in the treasury's latest daily statement dated January 2 and brings the total amount drawn to 800 million dollars.

There remains two billion, 950 million dollars in the line of credit authorized for use by Great Britain.

Republican Reaction To Truman's Message Varied

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Initial Republican reaction to President Truman's message to Congress on Monday was varied. Sen. Taft (R), chairman of the GOP policy committee and chairman of the Senate Labor committee said:

"The President apparently endorsed about one-half of the Case bill and doesn't rule the rest out, so there doesn't seem to be any substantial difference between that and the proposal we made last week. None of the proposals in the Case bill is punitive."

Concerning Mr. Truman's recommendation for continuation of all war-time excise taxes Taft said he thought that the 53 tax on liquor "might well be continued" but that other excise taxes were "open to discussion and question and ought to be considered carefully."

Should Tell How

Rep. Case (R) S. D., author of the Case anti-strike bill: "It would have been helpful had the President spelled out his labor reform objectives should be accomplished. Sooner or later we've got to come to grips with the labor problem, and in my opinion a study committee is just another device for delay."

Rep. Wadsworth (R) N. Y.: "I don't think any study committee on labor legislation is necessary."

Wadsworth said he was not prepared to discuss the presidential proposal for continuance of the wartime excise taxes on luxury items.

Sen. Bridges (R) N. H., appropriate committee chairman: "The President's labor proposals are entirely too general and fail to attack specifically enough the fundamentals underlying labor problems."

Don't Go Far Enough

Rep. Hoffman (R) Mich.: "There is much that is commendable and constructive in that portion of the President's message which deals with proposed labor legislation but it does not go far enough." Hoffman opposed establishment of special procedure for interpreting labor agreements and asserted, "disputes as to the meaning of collective bargaining agreements should be determined by our courts."

Sen. Ball (R) Minn., co-author with Taft and Sen. Smith (R) N. J. of the revised Case bill: "On the basis of the President's speech I don't see why he vetoed the Case bill. He should not have any objection to the measure we have prepared. However, I can't go along with Mr. Truman's proposal for a joint congressional study of labor problems. Studies should be by committees on specific legislation.

"Mr. Truman's fears about job security are not born out by the facts. The turnover doesn't indicate that workers are worried about security. If they were, we'd have fewer strikes."

"To the President's observation that labor peace can't be achieved by laws directed at labor unions, I would remind him that neither can it be achieved by laws directed at employers either—which the Wagner act does."

About 400 Adults Take Courses At Ne-Ca-Hi School

Approximately 400 persons, including G. I. students making up high school credit, are now taking evening classes sponsored by the senior high school, Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Burton revealed today.

This total is expected to increase in the next year or two. Dr. Burton added. Besides the G. I. classes in high school subjects, classes are also given in blueprint reading, ceramics, garment making and typing.

Any adult who wishes to attend these classes may do so, or he may request other courses. According to Pennsylvania state law, if a certain number of adults make a petition for a course in any subject, which the high school is prepared to teach, that course may be given. About 15 or 20 persons must make the petition to the school board.

NEW DIVORCE RECORD

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Divorces soared to an all-time high in Allegheny county during 1946, according to Prothonotary David B. Roberts.

Roberts reported at the close of the calendar year that 4906 divorces were granted during the year from 6315 libels filed.

Thirteen per cent were refused. Roberts pointed out that the divorce rate was increased by nearly 2,000 over 1945. He said that in 1933, a "normal" year, 976 divorces were granted of 1410 libels filed.

TIME TO SELECT FARM SHOW EXHIBIT

It's time for homemakers in Lawrence county to select their exhibits for the 1947 Farm Show in Harrisburg. Home economics representatives urge the would-be exhibitors to study the premium book carefully before selecting and entering their exhibits.

This year there are no classes for baked foods—breads, cakes and cookies. At the time the premium book was being printed the need for conserving flour, fat and sugar was so great that it was advisable to omit exhibits of baked goods from the show.

Other classes in the home economics department are practically the same as they were in pre-war years. However, women and girls planning to exhibit are reminded to observe carefully the general rules and regulations given in the premium book.

Judging of exhibits is not a personal matter with the judges. There are established requirements and standards for each class and an exhibit must fulfill the requirements of the class in which it is exhibited before it can be judged.

Wyatt Directive Is Withdrawn

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon on Monday withdrew the directive by which his predecessor, Wilson Wyatt, sought to assign a huge Chicago war plant to a builder of prefabricated homes.

Creedon acted after Carl Strandlund, president of Lustron Inc., the builder, told housing officials he was relinquishing his claim on the plant.

Today's move clears the lease on the plant of Preston Tucker of Chicago, who plans to build a new automobile, the "Torpedo" there.

The now-cancelled directive was issued October 28. It ordered the War Assets Administration, which holds the plant as war surplus, to turn it over to Lustron. Wyatt held that this was necessary to further his veterans emergency housing program.

WAA contended it already had a firm leasing agreement with Tucker and turned the matter over to the attorney general for an opinion. No opinion had been rendered up to today.

"I'll be fired for that fool story!"

The managing editor of the New York Herald took a day off on December 21, 1879. So this headline in his paper hit him without warning.

EDISON'S LIGHT—

IT MAKES A LIGHT, WITHOUT GAS OR FLAME!

The public promptly shouted "hoax!" Scientists called Edison crazy. And our shocked, angry editor expected to be fired.

But he wasn't. Eleven days later, Thomas Edison held a unique New Year's party in his laboratory at Menlo Park, New Jersey, and invited the world to see his "flameless light." Thousands came and were convinced. The incandescent lamp was real.

Soon small companies were bringing the benefits of Edison's newfangled lamp to the people. Engineers and business men poured in their energy and time... risked their own savings... overcame all kinds of obstacles... broadened and improved the service.

Government didn't do the job. Individuals did. And in the process, they created jobs for many thousands of Americans, as well as a great new service for many millions more.

When Edison opened the first power-plant in 1882, electricity cost 25¢ a kilowatt-hour. This year, as we mark the 100th anniversary of the great inventor's birth, the average price of household electricity across the country is only 3 1/3¢ per kilowatt-hour.

Thanks to Edison's imagination and enterprise—thanks to the courage and initiative of many men and women, working under the American business system—this country enjoys the most and the best electric service in the world. And all our lives are richer, safer, more productive.

Balkan Problem Will Be Aired

Native Born Hungarian, Imre Kovacs, To Tell Of Troubles Which Have Brought Wars

IMRE KOVACS

"Balkanitis, chronic or curable" will be the topic of an address which will interest every member of the New Castle Executive club at their next dinner meeting in The Castleton on Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The speaker will be Imre Kovacs.

Mr. Kovacs was born in Hungary, now Jugoslavia and was educated in Hungarian, German, Roumanian and Serbian schools. He came to Yale university and here became a "new American", as he puts it. He also studied music at Juilliard School of Music, and was once a soloist at Radio City Music Hall.

Later he returned to Jugoslavia for religious work and organized and directed music festivals among villagers there, traveling through nine European countries.

Although born across the river from Belgrade, Mr. Kovacs is a militant exponent of democracy, and a keen student of world affairs. He believes that "Balkanitis", which has brought on two world wars, is curable, and will tell his audience why during his address Thursday evening.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Half the country may want to buy a house, but not exotic Signe Hasso. She's just sold her place above the Sunset strip, and she has no intention of acquiring another.

"Owning a house just seems to mean trouble," she said. "There's always something which needs repair, or that's the way mine seemed. We needed the plumber almost every other day."

Signe, who's now playing in Columbia's "Assigned to Treasury", and her 12-year-old son, have moved to a penthouse on an eight-story Santa Monica hotel.

"It's wonderful," she said. "It has every convenience and a gorgeous view of the Pacific ocean. I was lucky to get it. I was able to rent it the very day I sold the house."

That's the way Signe feels, but on the other side of the fence we have determined men like Dick Simmons, one of Hollywood's handsomest, and George Montgomery, one of the town's most versatile. They're bent on having finished homes at all costs.

Dick is spending all his time plastering his new place out at Inglewood. He took the job himself because he was in despair at ever getting it finished.

"Eight months they've been working on the place so I decided to pitch in," dashing Dick said.

A year after Montgomery and wife Dinah Shore started rebuilding their Encino ranch house, it still isn't finished despite all of George's personal effort.

George is busy now installing woodwork and paneling. He made it clear to your reporter that now the house is practically ready nothing would make his and Dinah happier than to have the stork knock on the door. Dinah has been sick in bed for the past week with a bad cold, although she did get up for her radio broadcast. Your reporter, who has just snagged a bad cold himself, can sympathize.

Boston was regarded by the British as the most important objective in the American revolution.

New Castle At Beaver Falls; Geneva At Westminster Tonight

High Quintet Hopes To Take Second Straight

"Whiz Kids" May Be Minus "Chuck" Rea Tonight; Center Nursing Injured Thumb

RED AND BLACK CAN TAKE LEAD

Coach Bill Douglas will steer his New Castle Red and Black into the valley tonight to meet the dangerous Beaver Falls Tigers in the second round of the Section III title race.

The "Whiz Kids", who threw a well-aimed money-wrench into the machinery last Friday with their surprise win over Ambridge, hope to take the Bengals into camp. If they win there is a chance of moving into an undisputed lead in the loop. This depends on the Sharon-Ambridge tussle at the "Bridgers" court—an Ambridge win would propel the Red and Black into first place.

"Chuck" Rea Hurt
Douglas announced today that he may have to get through tonight's test minus the services of "Chuck" Rea, first-string pivot man, who injured his thumb in practice. The member is so sore as to make his starting this evening doubtful. To plus the gap Douglas will move up Al Marquell or Paul Cuba, Jr. The former led on the firing line against Ambridge and played a fine game. He has the strength to handle the center post and the team should not lose too much of its effectiveness.

Rounding out the first team will be Don Spears and Don Black at the forwards, and Tony Ciarella and Don Waters at the guards.

Tigers Dangerous
Beaver Falls invaded Allegheny in their inaugural and threw a genuine scare into the Indians before succumbing 49-45 in a wild game. Coach Lew Heeter has a fairly green squad this campaign but McCandless, Mutscheller and Why are seasoned floormen and aim to give everyone a battle.

The squad will leave from the Y. M. C. A. at 5:30 p. m. Robert Miller, faculty manager, announced, traveling by bus. Prelim is set for 7 p. m.

South Side Lions Defeat Bronzers

Led by Andy Moses and Jim Fair, the South Side Lions basketball team defeated the Johnson Bronzers 38-20 at St. Mary's Catholic Center, 100 to 30. In another game recently the South Side Lions trounced the St. Joseph Mission team 38 to 14 with Jim Fair and McBride leading the scoring stars.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Baseball fans throughout the nation prayed today for the speedy recovery of Babe Ruth, the game's most beloved figure.

The old home run king, who underwent a serious neck operation yesterday, was fighting one of the toughest battles of his career.

The surgery required two hours and 10 minutes. While hospital bulletins called his condition "satisfactory," the exact nature of his illness was shrouded in mystery.

Early bedside bulletins reported the Bambino came through the operation so well that he will be able to sit up and walk around either today or tomorrow. Later bulletins confirmed his condition as "satisfactory." No further official bulletin was to be issued until 11 o'clock this morning.

Neck Arteries Tied
The surgery on Ruth was described as two arteries in the left side of the neck being ligated, or "tied off," Dr. Phipps, Dr. Wertheim, one of the four surgeons who operated on the former Sultan of Swat, expects the Babe to recover quickly and completely.

Ruth will be 52 next month. He first entered French hospital November 26 for what then was described as a sinus infection. Later, six specialists were called in for consultation after the Babe complained of "intractable pain."

EPWORTH JUNIORS LOSE
Epworth Juniors were defeated 52 to 49 by the Harmony Baptist team, it was announced, with Ferde, Henderson and Beatty in starring roles, the latter with 25 points for Epworth.

Scoring giant of the Lancaster, Pa., professional basketball team is Whitely Von Neida, former Penn State star.

Only ten points barred them from an all-winning record as Penn State's Nittany Lions dropped three of their first five basketball games.

TITANS HOPE TO TRIP RIVALS IN BATTLE AT HOME

a home game since 1942, Coach Grover Washburn has warned his men to be ready for one of the toughest games of the season. Grover is hoping the boys flash the same form they showed in handling St. Vincent a 69-32 lacing Saturday night.

Back in uniform Monday night was Dean Nelson, veteran guard from Warren, Pa., who has been out for several weeks with a bone broken in his right hand. He may not be ready for another week but his return improves the outlook for the remainder of the season. Lack of seasoned reserve material contributed to the defeat by Harvard.

Two reserve players who have been on the sick list are also rounding into form. Bill Paul, New Kensington, guard, and Clyde Shaffer, New Wilmington, forward, practiced Monday night after a week's illness.

Swedish Track Champs Arrive

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Sweden's champion trackmen, Hakon Lidman, 31, and Rune Gustafsson, 27, prepared today to compete against America's best, following their arrival by plane in this country.

Lidman is a hurdler, and Gustafsson, 1,000 meter champion, will run the mile in meets in the United States. The latter will compete in eight events in Philadelphia, Boston and New York from February 24 to March 8.

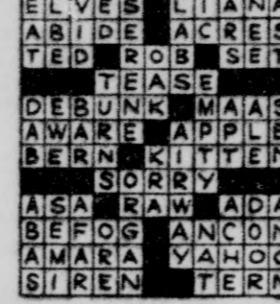

Lily Bowl Game Ends In 7-7 Tie

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Honors were even today in the Lily Bowl rivalry, new service gridiron classic inaugurated Sunday before 9,000 spectators at Athletic Field.

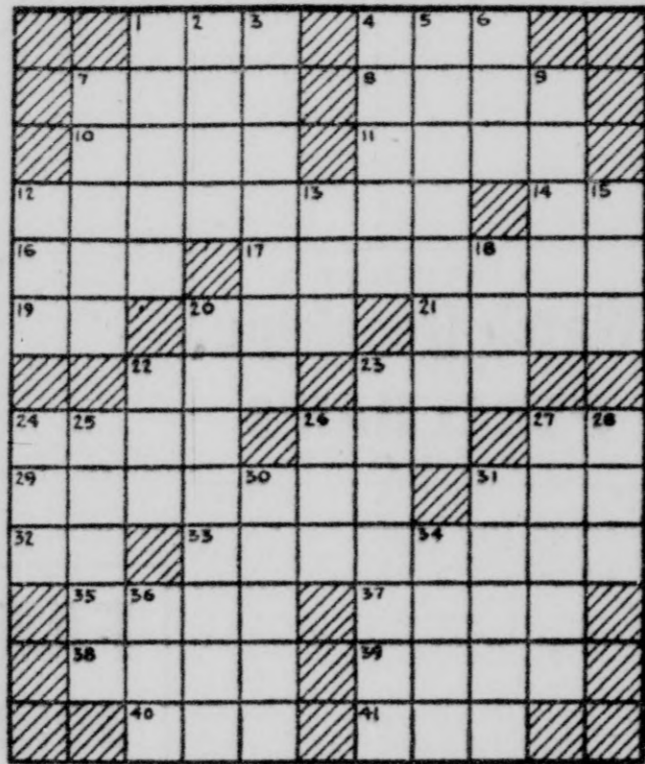

Army tied Navy, 7 to 7. R. C. Merrill, quarterback, of Belleville, Ill., scored for Army in the third quarter. In the fourth period, Captain H. W. Hofmann, a tackle from Flushing, N. Y., ran 75 yards for a Navy touchdown.

Pamphlets On Tax Forms Are Available

Government Supplies Information On How To Use W-2 Forms Now Available To Employers

Pamphlets on the use of the W-2 form in filling out your 1946 income tax returns are available at the office of the deputy of internal revenue here, it was announced today by G. A. Funkhouser, who is in charge of the district office here. Any employer wishing to secure a supply of these forms for distribution to his employees to assist them in filling out their returns for 1946, may procure the same at the office, Room 201, Post Office building.

Income taxes for 1946 are now due and payable at the local office, those liable having until March to make their returns.

Housing Official Accused Of Taking Bribe In Project

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—(INS)—A suspended Philadelphia Federal Housing Administration official today stood accused of accepting $14,000 from a Wilmington, Del., builder.

Testimony was given against Maynard W. Poole Jr. by S. Harry Lingo, secretary treasurer of Raymond S. Donovan Inc., Wilmington home-building firm.

Lingo told Federal Judge J. Cullen Ganey and a jury of six men and six women that he paid Poole the money over a two-year period. The witness said the first payment was made in March 1943, in Philadelphia, and the third, amounting to $7,000 was made in May, 1945, at a Media parking lot.

Lingo asserted the $14,000 was given over in hopes of "expediting" construction of two Donovan projects near Wilmington.
